

School of Health Technology and Management
Grants Return Policy
May 8, 2020

With the goal of incentivizing grantsmanship and positioning SHTM faculty to be at the forefront of the research enterprise at Stony Brook University, the Dean's Office is adopting a practice that will return a portion of salary offset or indirect costs revenue generated from grant activity to the Principal Investigator who received the award and their Department Chair. Funds can be used to support research assistants, conference travel, supplies and equipment, publications, poster printing, and consultants. It is intended that reinvesting these returns will allow for continued advancement in research and scholarship.