

SHTM RESEARCH SEMINAR

WEDNESDAY NOVEMBER 8, 2017

Getting Your Research Published: Tips from a Medical Publishing Professional on Improving Your Acceptance Rate

If you have a suggestion for a presenter, or would like to present at a research seminar in the future, please contact the Research Committee Chair, Gloria Viboud (gloria.viboud@stonybrook.edu)

Frank Rodino, MHS, PA

Churchill Communications, LLC

OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this seminar, attendees should have a better understanding of

- The elements and timing of a successful publication plan
- How to think like a medical journal editor including the reasons most often cited for rejecting a manuscript
- How techniques such as pre-submission inquiries and publication landscapes help to improve your chances of getting published
- How to defend your decision to choose a specific target journal
- Authorship, acknowledgments, transparency, disclosure, and ethical guidelines for medical publications

All are Welcome to Attend Seminars are Hosted in the
SHTM Large Conference Room, HSC-L2, 12-1 pm

Sponsored by the SHTM Research Committee

Food will be Served

Please RSVP Via Google Invite or call 4-3621

Stony Brook
School of Health Technology and Management